

TEXAS LIVESTOCK SHOWS BIG GAINS

Worth $123,288 More Than That on January 1, 1915; Horses Show a Loss.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Texas livestock increased $123,288 in value during the year 1915. A gain of $14,468,000 was made after the value in 1915. These figures are announced by the United States department of agriculture, based on estimates and reports made to the department.

Cattle Make Greatest Gain
The value of Texas livestock on January 1 last amounted to $433,750,000. In the year reported, cattle made the greatest gain. In 1915 the cattle were worth a total of $90,191,000 and on Jan. 1, 1916, they were valued at $117,000,000. A year ago they were valued at $117,000,000, based upon reports from the Texas range and stock farms. There were 5,292,000 head enumerated in 1915, 5,121,000 January 1, 1915, and 5,428,000 on January 1, 1916.

Horses Show Loss of Nearly Million.
Texas horses were worth nearly $1,000,000 less on January 1, 1916, than the year before. Horses, mules, cows, cattle and sheep increased in numbers and value, and while swine increased $17,000 in number, their value was off $1,202,000. The falling off in value of horses is partially accounted for in reduction of the number. All Southwestern States have contributed heavily in horses to the armies in Europe. The following were the Texas values at the beginning of the year, with increases and decreases compared with the year before:

Horses, $92,040,000, decrease $55,000; mules, $76,500,000, increase $1,500,000; milch cows, $57,800,000, increase $5,224,000; cattle, $117,000,000, increase $17,000,000; sheep, $7,577,000, increase $1,212,000; swine, $24,610,000, decrease $1,202,000.
